

Name _____ Date _____

Selection Vocabulary

Focus

module n. a part of a spacecraft that has a special use and can be separated from the rest of the craft

bulky adj. large and puffy focused v. past tense of focus: to direct attention to someone or something thrust n. a sudden, strong push or force hatch n. an opening in the deck of a ship or spacecraft that leads to other decks

tranquility n. the absence of motion or disturbance awe n. great wonder, fear, and respect depressed v. past tense of depress: to cause to sink below the surrounding region

mankind n. human beings as a group; the human race sensations n. plural of sensation: a feeling

Practice

Write T in the blank if a sentence uses the vocabulary word correctly. Write F if the sentence is false, and write the correct word on the line.

1. Tranquility is great wonder and respect. _____
2. A sudden, forceful push is a thrust. _____
3. A hatch is a special part of a spacecraft that can fly separately on its own.

4. Something sunk below the surrounding area is depressed.

5. Sensations are feelings. _____